Automotive Glass Experts (AGE) Announces Partnership with Kaizen Glass Solutions to Enhance Technician Training

AGE, a true reference in automotive glass services, is pleased to announce its new partnership with Kaizen Glass Solutions, a renowned specialist in technician training for Automotive Glass services and ADAS Calibration.

Derived from the Japanese philosophy meaning “change for the better” or “continuous improvement,” Kaizen embodies principles that align seamlessly with AGE’s values and mission. This collaboration marks a significant advancement towards enhancing the skills of AGE’s 7,000 glass technicians and fostering continuous development within the automotive industry.

Kaizen Glass Solutions offers comprehensive training programs tailored for technicians at all career stages, from newcomers to seasoned professionals.

“The responsibility of being “experts” demands diligent effort, and this partnership will assist AGE and its members in aligning strategies globally, ensuring the consistent delivery of high-quality service while staying abreast of market trends and advancements.

We are excited about the possibilities this partnership brings," said Marco Moreno, CEO and Chairman at AGE.

This alliance underscores AGE's commitment to providing exceptional service and support to its network of technicians. Through this collaboration, with Kaizen Glass Solutions, we aim to empower technicians while fostering growth and innovation."

Shauna Davis, President of Kaizen Glass Solutions, expressed her excitement about the partnership. "Joining forces with AGE allows us to extend our reach and impact in the European market. We are committed to providing top-notch training that empowers technicians and enhances the overall quality of automotive glass service."
