AGE Expands Southeast Asia Presence with Strategic Partnership with UDA Auto Glass and UD Auto Glass

AGE is pleased to announce the expansion of its Southeast Asia network through a strategic partnership with UDA Auto Glass and UD Auto Glass, a highly respected automotive glass specialist based in Thailand.

With over 28 years of industry experience, UDA Auto Glass and UD Auto Glass have built a strong presence in the Thai market. The company currently operates 13 branches across the country, with plans to continue expanding nationwide. Recognized for its operational excellence, technical expertise, and customer-focused service, the company offers a full range of auto glass services—from advanced wind-shield repairs to full-scale replacement solutions.

This strategic partnership reinforces AGE's commitment to growing with trusted regional providers who share a mutual focus on quality, reliability, and customer value.

"We are thrilled to welcome UDA Auto Glass and UD Auto Glass to the AGE network," said Marco Moreno, CEO & Chairman at AGE. "Their commitment to high-quality service and operational professionalism aligns directly with our standards. Together, we look forward to enhancing service coverage and value for our customers in the region.”

As part of AGE’s broader expansion strategy, this collaboration strengthens its operational footprint in Southeast Asia and supports ongoing efforts to deliver consistent, high-quality service experiences across markets. The partnership enables AGE to better support regional fleets, insurance partners, OEM networks, and enterprise clients through reliable local execution backed by a global framework.

“We are excited to join AGE’s international network of partners,” said Miss Samol Chakuttadakul of UDA Auto Glass and UD Auto Glass. “This partnership will help us bring new capabilities to market, streamline operations, and deliver greater service value to both local and international clients operating in Thailand.”
