Automotive Glass Experts (AGE), a global automotive glass services network, announces a new partnership with professional tool manufacturer Equalizer®, reinforcing its commitment to strengthening operational capabilities across its international member base.

This partnership reflects AGE's continued focus on aligning with suppliers that support consistent quality, and high standards in workshop operations, and the evolving technical requirements of modern automotive glass service industry.

Equalizer has been designing automotive glass tools since 1987, with a focus on practical, technician-oriented solutions. Their portfolio covers glass removal, preparation, installation, and specialty applications. Headquartered in Round Rock, Texas, USA, Equalizer serves international markets through its global distribution network.

"We are pleased to include Equalizer as a partner supplier for our network," said Giorgio Pompole, AGE Board Member responsible for Suppliers. "This partnership strengthens our ability to provide members with access to equipment that supports consistent workmanship, operational efficiency, and day-to-day reliability across different markets."

By integrating Equalizer into its supplier network, AGE further enhances its value proposition to members by facilitating access to a broad range of professional tools, supported by technical expertise and international distribution capabilities.
